IMPURE BREATH.

Among all the disagreeable consequences that follow the decay of the teeth, an impure breath must be the most mortifying and unpleasant to its possessor, and it is the most inexcusable and offensive in society; and yet the cause of it may easily be removed by cleansing your teeth daily with that justly popular dentifrice, Fragrant SOZODONT. It purifies and sweetens the breath, cools and refreshes the mouth, and gives a pearl-like appearance to the teeth. Gentlemen who indulge in smoking should cleanse their teeth with SOZODONT, as it removes all unpleasant odors of the weed. Ask your druggist for it.

REMOVAL.—FORTUNE TELLING.—Madam Zola, a fortune teller whose reputation has become as extensive as her illustrious teacher, Raschell, is now in Carson, where she will spend a few weeks for the purpose of revealing the mysteries of the future. She divines events to come off in stocks, gambling, and love affairs, and reads the trend of futurity, either by cards or the lines of the hand. Her palmistry is beyond comparison. Rooms on Second street, at Mrs. Mills', opposite the southeast corner Capitol Square. Fee $1.

WANTED.—A furnished house with five rooms. Apply at APPEAL office. tf

THE IMPERIAL ACCIDENT.

NINE MEN KILLED IN THE SHAFT.

The accident which occurred at the Imperial shaft night before last at midnight and was first known in Carson in the morning is the most dreadful casualty that has occurred on the Comstock for years.

HOW THE BREAK WAS CAUSED.

Richard Byder, the pumpman, left an ax on the cage coming up and it is supposed that the ax protruding over the edge caught in one of the timbers and the extra strain on the cable caused it to snap. The cage was at the 1100 station when the cable broke. It snapped like a thread and the safety clutches failing to catch, the cage, occupied by ten men, shot to the bottom of the shaft and 1,200 feet of iron cable weighing several tons piled on top of it when it reached the bottom.

EIGHT MEN KILLED.

Eight men were instantly killed by being thrown against the timbers and the cage by the weight of the cable falling upon them. The bonnet of the cage was crushed and the decks bent out of shape, but the upper deck was not broken through.

Frank Smith was the only man that was saved. He was standing on the upper deck, and when the cage began falling, caught hold of the crossbar with both hands and raised himself clear of everything. His presence of mind saved his life. Of course he was thrown violently to the floor when the cage stopped, and was badly bruised from head to foot. He also received a scalp wound and a cut on the foot, and the shock of his system was so great that the surgeon has not dared to sew up his wounds. He was almost pulseless when brought to the surface, but is slowly recovering, and will probably get well in time.

AT THE SHAFT'S MOUTH.

The Chronicle of last night gives the following account of the scenes at the mouth of the shaft:

Roach was alive when brought to the surface. His left thigh was broken and his right leg fractured in two places by the cable, which fell across him. The surgeon thinks it barely possible that he might have lived had he not been brought up, as the weakening effect noticed even by sound men in coming up from the bottom of a shaft prevented him from rallying from the shock. He spoke a few words after being brought up, but was unable to give any account of the accident, and died in a short time. The others who were killed were horribly crushed, some of their heads being smashed to a jelly and their necks broken. All the bodies were taken out by 5 o'clock this morning.

The inquest will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

THE KILLED.

The names of the killed are as follows: Wm. Corbett, shift boss, a single man; Jas. Hanrahan, single man; N. B. Farnum, single; John Roach, leaves mother and two sisters; Jerry Sullivan, leaves a wife and three children, one of whom but a few days old; Richard Ryder, pumpman, unmarried, leaves brother in this city; Matt. Winnie, leaves wife and children and father in Carson; Thos. Meagher, leaves wife and four children; Pat Murphy, no family, leaves brother in this city. Farnum, Hanrahan, Corbett, Winnie and Meagher lived in Gold Hill, and the others in Virginia.

THE LONE ARCHER ABROAD.—E. K. Otey the Lone Archer of the Sagebrush wilds, passed down on the train last night en route for Sacramento, where he goes to take a hand in some Archery contests at the State Fair. He carried down seven bows to use at the various ranges, and astonish the residents of the bucolic valley. One of his bows is a Spanish yew valued $100 or $200, we forget which—and capable of throwing a flight arrow 400 yards. In going around one of the horse shoe curves of Mr. Sharon's crooked railroad, Mr. Otey leaned out of the window, and sent a steel-pointed arrow clean through the headlight, which he mistook for a target. It caused a delay of ten minutes, and Mr. Yerington has ordered wire screens placed over the headlights to protect them from near sighted archers. Mr. Otey is expected home in about ten days loaded down with the trophies of victory, in the shape of silver ware, diplomas and coin.

ST. PETER'S BELL.—The bell of the Episcopal Church, which was cracked last winter by the frost, is now being repaired at the V. and T. machine shops. An assay of the metal has been made and a compound similar in proportions will be made and run in the fracture. It will be hung in a day or two. The mending of the bell, together with its removal from the belfry and re-hanging, will be a donation to the church by the V. and T. R. Co. The carrier of the APPEAL contributes the following on the event:

And after the hanging
Its regular clanging
Will bid the worshippers bend the knee.
In spite of St. Peter
'Twill sound far sweeter
Than in the shops of the V. and T.

FEMININE BOTTLE THROWERS.—Last night about half past 6 o'clock three women of the town went into a Carson street restaurant and ordered dinner. When about half through a fourth female came in by the rear entrance and fell upon one of the group. In a few minutes the air was thick with tumblers and Worcestershire sauce bottles. The belligerents were finally separated, and the quartette retired to seek other battlefields. No arrests.

There was an indignation meeting at the County Treasurer's office, Genoa, last Sunday. Gentlemen owning about 12,000 shares in the Colorado mine No. 2, assembled, passed resolutions, appointed a committee to examine into the affairs of said company and demand a showing from the officers.

MURDERED BY A CHINAMAN.

O. W. MARDIS ASSASSINATED NEAR ISLAND MOUNTAIN—THE MURDERER LYNCHED.

On Friday last G. W. Mardis left Island Mountain for Elko, and failed to arrive. He had gone to purchase supplies, and his disappearance gave rise to a suspicion of foul play. On Saturday a search was made, and Mr. Hatch of Halleck, Chris. Olsen and others, discovered Mardis' team, tangled up and part of them down, about five miles out. Moccasin and pony tracks were plainly visible about the wagon, the pony tracks leading in the direction of the camp. The Elko Independent says that the party followed the pony's track, which led directly to Island Mountain, where they learned that an Indian called "Ground Hog" had eaten breakfast and departed for Duck Valley only a few hours before their arrival. The Indian was well acquainted with Mardis, and had always professed great friendship for him. His camp is about a mile from where the team was found. On his arrival he was asked if he had seen anything of Mardis' outfit, and replied he had not. Returning to the wagon they commenced a thorough search for Mardis, but without success. Later in the day they discovered the track of a Chinaman leading away from the wagon, which they followed until dark, and to within a mile and a half of Chinatown. Suspicion points to a Chinese gambler, called New York Charley, who left for Mountain City on Saturday, and action was immediately taken for his arrest. Mardis had with him about $300 in gold, belonging to Chinese, with which he was to purchase supplies, and doubtless this sum was the cause of his death.

LATER.—The body of Mardis was found in the woods. He had been shot and stabbed, and had six wounds upon his person. After finding the body, the Chinaman, who had been arrested, confessed the crime. He was immediately handed over to his fellow countrymen, who promised to lynch him. They were as good as their word, for inside of two hours they had hung him to a tree.

A CURIOUS COINCIDENCE.—The San Francisco Chronicle has issued a miniature fac simile edition of April 24th (the day after the assassination). It contains a full account of the murder, and preparations for the funeral, and its black "turned rules" running up and down the page recall the terrible ending of the Chronicle's founder. The little memento is six by ten inches in area, and on the fourth page is a fine lithograph portrait of Charles De Young. Anyone who will hold the paper up to the light cannot fail to note a curious circumstance, which, although purely accidental, goes to show what strange truths an undercurrent of coincidence will sometimes throw to the surface. In the fourth column there is a description of the floral tributes to be seen at his residence, and on one was an inscription in flowers, "Died for his Mother". This is printed in somewhat larger type than the rest, in the center of the column, and enclosed in a square. When the memento is held up to the light, the picture of De Young shows through the thin paper and the inscription is printed exactly on his lips. The fact that the printers and the lithographers work independently of each other should have caused the word "Mother" to still be upon his lips, is quite worthy of note. Had the thing been accomplished for a purpose, the type could not have fallen into place with more mathematical precision, yet from the fact that the type was set on the night of Aug. 23d, months before the picture was thought of; the position of the face exactly in the middle of the page, leaves no doubt but that it is one of those problems which worked out in the hurly burly of blind chance, arrives at an astonishing and significant result.

ABOUT AS EXPECTED.—A private letter received in this city a few days ago from Byron Verrill, a Republican candidate for the Legislature in Maine, reads: "We do not expect to carry the State against the Greenbackers and Democrats by more than from one to four thousand majority." Thus it will be seen that the result was fully up to the expectations of active politicians on the ground where the battle was fought.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—The Genoa Courier has the following:

It is currently reported that the man who brutally murdered Christopher Hull in Jacks valley, on the 8th day of last month, is now in the hands of Sheriff Williams, and will soon be an inmate of our jail. Sheriff Williams has been untiring in his efforts to capture this fiend, and the arrest, will give him, and the many friends of the victim, great satisfaction.

It cost $1200 to receive Hayes and there is only $600 to foot the bills with in Virginia City. The man who raised the flag on the Mt. Davidson pole, put in a modest bill for $25. The beard think of giving him the flag pole and mountain and cancel the account.

CORRECTION.—The item in last night's Tribune regarding the contemplated marriage of Miss Downer was slightly mixed. She is to marry E. D. McKenley, not McGinley, and instead of next Sunday the marriage will be solemnized a week from Sunday.

On Saturday last D. Nicossi, of Diamond Valley, fired a gun at a robber, and the gun recoiled with such force that it broke his arm above the elbow. The robber got away.

There is just now a heavy rush of agriculturalists at the Secretary of State's office to get some of Daggett's Siberian wheat.

WANTED A NEW PAPER.—Yesterday afternoon a man who was talking to a little group in his store (having nothing else to do) remarked:

"What we need in this town is a good news paper. We ought to have a paper at the Capitol, as big as the Virginia papers. Not like these six by nine little sheets now published in Carson, but something that's a credit to the Capitol City of Nevada."

"How much would you do toward patronizing such a paper?" asked one of the group.

"As much as anybody," was the evasive answer.

"Do you take the APPEAL?" continued the other.

"No, but my brother does, and I read his."

"Do you take the Times?"

"No, I never did go a cent on an evening paper anyhow."

"Where do you get your job printing done?"

"Oh, I send to Frisco now. I can get work done there about as cheap as anywhere."

"Do you advertise in the Carson papers?"

"Well no, what's the good, they put it in a place about three inches long and come around every month for five dollars. I don't believe in throwing away money for advertising any how. It's one of the luxuries of life, I go my pile on the necessities. Now, while I'm speaking about necessities let me sell you that kit of mackerel I was speaking of yesterday."

"Well," said the other "I guess I'll send down to San Francisco. I can get them about as cheap. All the money you make you spend there, and why shouldn't I. A man who can't afford to pay a little more for things that can be got right in the town, isn't apt to keep a very good supply of mackerel, and a man who don't advertise don't change his stock often enough to keep it fresh," and the thoughtful consumer went his way to look for a brand of mackerel that had not been lying in the store for three years.

INDIAN DOLLS.—The wild and wayward children of the Washoe Indians take to dolls just as naturally as the kids of white people. Girls of six and eight years of age make little wicker baskets such as they used to hang in on their mother's backs, fill them with rag babies and carry them about with as much fuss and feathers as a pale faced child would agonize with a six dollar doll. Nothing less than a watermelon will take their attention off a rag baby.

BIG SFFAKER.—Gen. Edwards has made arrangements with Emory Storrs, the famous Illinois orator, to address the Republicans of Carson on the issues of the campaign. Mr. Storrs will probably speak here next week, after he has made a speech in Virginia.

THE MOONLIGHT PICNIC.—The gathering at Treadway's Park last evening was a very successful and enjoyable one. Large numbers attended and dancing was kept up until late hour.

J. S. Johnson the colored cook of the Arlington House, died of dropsy, yesterday afternoon. The funeral will take place at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

There has been a little jump in Alta but the buyers are not numerous; people have not forgotten a little deal in Alta which took place once before.

Cheney's old stand is now re-opened, and business has been resumed as heretofore. The choicest of family groceries always on hand.

T. J. Lamoureux will return from San Francisco to-day with a fresh invoice of fruit, nuts and confectionery.

City scrip is now quoted at ten per cent discount.

A gold magic case watch, made by Wm. Cooper, Liverpool, No. 19,120 was lost in this city over a month ago. The finder will be paid a reward of $25 by leaving it at the APPEAL office.

ELECTRIC BELTS.—Thaxter has some genuine electric belts for sale, which, in a few weeks transformed a consumptive into a prize fighter.

BENTON'S STAGE.—On and after May 28th Benton's stage for Lake Tahoe will leave daily at 10 A. M. until further notice.

45 Years Before the Public.

THE GENUINE Dr. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the Liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia, and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

ACUE AND FEVER.

No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking quinine.

As a simple purgative they are unequalled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar-coated. Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression, McLANE'S LIVER PILLS. Each wrapper bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS.

Insist upon having the genuine Dr. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLANE, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

With the chills and fever, the victim of malaria may still recover by using this celebrated specific, which not only breaks up the most aggravated attacks but prevents their recurrence. It is infinitely preferable to quinine, not only because it does the business a far more thoroughly, but also on account of its perfect wholesomeness and invigorating action upon the entire system.

For sale by all druggists and dealers generally.

UNLIKE PILLS

And the usual Purgatives, Is Pleasant to Take,

and will prove at once the most potent and harmonious system of purgation and cleanser that has yet been brought to public notice. For Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, Piles, and all disorders arising from an obstructed state of the system, it is incomparably the best cathartic extant.
